LUCID INTERVALS

"What's the matter, Bill, can't you keep anything on your stomach?" asked a sympathetic soldier of a comrade on an army transport bound for France.

"N—no", replied the seasick soldier, "nothin' but my hands."

"Which will you do?" inquired Meandering Mike, "work or fight?"

"Fightin'll come easiest," replied Plodding Pete. "I always did feel like fightin' every time anybody offered me work."—Washington Star.

Patient (with a broken arm)—It's awful not to be able to do any war work while I'm laid up.

Doctor—That's all right; my dear Mrs. Willney—your bones are knitting.—Life.

Jack (gallantly)—Betty, dear, anything that you say goes.

Betty (quickly)—Jack!—Punch Bowl.

"It doesn't seem right," said the man with worn-out shoes.

"What doesn't seem right?"

"That a mere cow can afford to wear all that leather."—Washington Star.

The dear old lady who is always fidgeting, and always fretting, and always forgetting, bundled breathlessly up the platform as the train came steaming in. And then she remembered that she had forgotten something.

"Porter," she gasped, grabbing hold of a passing official's sleeve, "have I got time—Oh, dear me, I know I haven't! How long does this train wait here?"

"Four minutes, ma'am," replied the porter.

"How long did you say?" she asked fretfully.

"From two-to-two to two-two," said the porter, as he disengaged his arm with a gentle wrench and hurried away.

"Goodness me!" exclaimed the old dame, looking after him. "Does he think he's the whistle?"—Grit.

"Why the noise?"

"The barber is shaving himself."

"But why the argument?"

"He is trying to persuade himself to have a shampoo."—Record.

"Do you believe in the study of Greek and Latin?"

"Sure," replied Farmer Corntossel. "Everybody has his rights. And a man who hasn't anything worth expressing in plain English ought to have something to occupy his mind with."—Washington Star.

Samson pointed to the results. "The 50-cent hair cut drove me to try home talent," he wailed.—New York Sun.

Doctor—After this you ought to sleep like a baby.

Patient—I hope you don't mean my baby, doctor.—Utica Globe.

Old Rocksey—I'll never consent to your marrying unless you select a good business man.

Miss Rocksey—But, papa, George is a good business man. He never paid any attention to me until he heard how much you were worth.—People's Home Journal.

"Do you believe that kissing transmits microbes?"

"No, but if my fiancee doesn't quit fondling that dog I expect to get fleas."—Pittsburgh Leader.

HEALTH
WITHOUT MEDICINE

A little Treatise on "Health Facts" explains the Partial Fasting Method which has given most remarkable results—so remarkable that physicians are recommending it. Tells how a simple kitchen vegetable eaten raw without chemicals and how to make a complexion beautifier that whitens and clears the skin, making it soft and delicate. Tells how to get well of Indigestion, Constipation, Gall Stones, Weakness.—Tells all about how food alone can cause disease or give perfect health.

The book gives many other guides to health, comfort, and good looks. Tells how to eat for Health and the medicinal effect of ordinary food.
